

REHABILITATION MEDICINE SOCIETY OF AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND

POSITION STATEMENT:

The Role of the Rehabilitation Physician in the provision of Rehabilitation Medicine Services

September 2017

RMSANZ is dedicated by its constitutional objects to advance and promote the specialty and professional identity of Rehabilitation Medicine.

We are committed to advocate on behalf of the professionals and recipients of disability services for improvements in quality and the maintenance of optimal delivery of rehabilitation services in Australia and New Zealand.

The Society does this by collaborating with the Royal Australasian College of Physicians (RACP), its Australasian Faculty of Rehabilitation Medicine (AFRM) and relevant agencies.

RMSANZ is a Specialty Society comprised of Rehabilitation Physicians who are Fellows of the Faculty of Rehabilitation Medicine of the Royal Australasian College of Physicians.

Rehabilitation Physicians are engaged in both public and private sector practice, striving, with teams of Allied Health Practitioners, to optimise the functional recovery of persons who have become disabled as a result of catastrophic illness or injuries.

This includes a specific and credentialed skill base to provide optimal management of areas including: stroke, spinal cord injury, brain injury, multi trauma, cerebral palsy and the like. In our individual practice we advocate for and provide rehabilitation services to individual patients.

Our mandate is to discuss and collaborate with Health authorities in areas of policy innovation where these will assist disabled persons to maximise rehabilitation outcomes.

We are aware of budgetary constraints under which health systems operate and are often in a unique position at the grass roots to see where system changes may improve efficiency and effectiveness of service provision.
